
Hyb4City

Campus Hybernská is a centre of culture, innovation, science, and education. It is intended for meetings of students, artists, scientists, researchers, creatives, and innovators with the public and the application sphere of the City of Prague. Campus Hybernská was created by uniting the City of Prague and Charles University with the aim of establishing a joint project for the development of more intensive cooperation. Campus Hybernská offers a number of lectures, debates, panels, discussions, celebrations, concerts, and exhibitions. The programme is designed in both Czech and English. We would like to welcome all academics, students, and employees of CU to our premises, not only as spectators, but also as partners for creating the centre's programme.
