
Terms for participation

The CU Point organizes a wide range of workshops, seminars, lectures, and forums during the academic year for Charles University students (Bachelor's, Master's, and Ph.D.), Charles University employees, and members of the Charles University Alumni Club.

You must always register in advance using the link in the detailed information for the specific event on the web pages. Event capacity is always limited.

All events are geared to a specific target group (CU students/employees/Alumni Club). If the capacity of an event is not full, other interested parties may also attend.

The organizer of an event may always exclude a participant who does not meet the participation requirements for an event.

If you cannot attend an event that you are registered for, you must deregister using the link sent to you by e-mail when confirming registration for the event.

Should you have any other question, please contact the organizer, who is always indicated in the detailed information for the specific event on the CU Point web pages.
